ANVISTONE

Elegant & Timeless
"Natural Stone. Lasting Impressions."

Natural Granite and Marble Products

We offer a carefully curated selection of premium granite and marble for a wide range of architectural and interior design applications. Each product is sourced for its durability, natural beauty, and timeless appeal — ideal for both residential and commercial use.

Slabs, Tiles, Stair Treads, and Countertops

We supply a wide variety of stone formats, including large slabs for custom fabrication, standard tiles for flooring and walls, precision-cut stair treads, and ready-to-install kitchen and bathroom countertops. All formats are available in different thicknesses and surface finishes to suit your project needs.

Carefully Selected Materials from Trusted Quarries

We work only with verified and experienced quarries that meet strict quality standards. Every stone we offer is chosen for its durability, visual consistency, and architectural value. This ensures long-term reliability and a premium finish for every application.

Direct Delivery Across Scandinavia and the EU

We organize reliable and cost-efficient delivery of stone materials directly to your site or warehouse. With access to major transport routes and regional logistics partners, we ensure timely shipments to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, the Baltics, and other European destinations — with clear lead times and documentation.

Stone Selection

Choosing the right natural stone is essential for the aesthetic, durability, and function of your project. At AnviStone, we offer a carefully selected range of materials that meet the highest standards for construction, design, and architectural use.

Below are four of the most trusted and widely used stone types – each with its own unique properties and visual character.

Granite – Extremely durable and resistant to heat, scratches, and weather. Ideal for countertops, flooring, and exterior cladding.

Marble – Timeless and elegant, with natural veining. Best suited for interiors such as bathrooms, walls, and decorative surfaces.

Quartzite – Combines the refined look of marble with the hardness of granite. Perfect for kitchens, stairs, and high-traffic zones.

Limestone – Softer, warm-toned stone used for facades and interior flooring. Adds subtle sophistication to any space.

Product catalogue

Welcome to the official AnviStone Product Catalog 2025, where natural materials meet precision, reliability, and design.

This catalog presents a curated selection of premium granite, marble, quartzite, and limestone — sourced from trusted quarries and available in a wide range of formats and finishes.

We supply products for both residential and commercial projects across Europe, including:

- Slabs, tiles, countertops, stair treads, and facade panels
- Standard or cut-to-size dimensions
- Polished, honed, flamed, and other surface options

Each item in this catalog includes technical details, usage suggestions, and delivery availability to help you find the best solution for your architectural or interior needs.

If you require a tailored offer or assistance with material selection, our team is ready to support you — in English, German, or Scandinavian languages.
